Between 1868 and 1870, the Court Street Methodist Church built this Second Empire style building at the corner of Main and Court Street. The building was designed to include the church on the second and third floors with commercial tenants on the ground floor. Between the two stores is the ornate entryway to the church which has since been removed. In 1906, the Masonic Western Star bought the building and used the upper portion until 1965.

After being vacant for 50 years, the second and third floor interiors have been painstakingly restored to bring back the beauty and charm of this historic building for its use as a banquet and event facility.

The building is on the National Register of Historic Places and is located in downtown Janesville.

The Venue features three unique rooms to suit your needs for events ranging from 10-350 people.
